Lily and the Glowing Garden

A story about Lily

A Sunny Morning

Lily loved quiet mornings in Grandma's backyard. Today felt full of tiny secrets waiting to be found. She held her trusty magnifying glass tight and smiled.

The Sparkly Trail

Down near the old stone wall, a trail of silver sparkles caught the light. The glittery footprints led straight into a low archway made of green ivy vines.

Across the Little Brook

A bubbling little stream blocked the hidden path. Lily carefully hopped across the round, slippery river pebbles. Splish, splash, she made it safe and dry!

The Secret Berries

Behind a thick hedge waited a meadow of giant strawberries that glowed like nightlights! Friendly bumblebees with velvety wings hummed a sweet, cheerful song.

A Cozy Rest

Lily leaned back against the warm trunk of a friendly oak tree. The magical berries twinkled softly in the evening breeze. She could not wait to return tomorrow.
